File Systems*:
Broken or Irrelevant

Andrew Warfield Citrix/UBC

* in virtual environments (at least).
Storage interfaces and FS layout is influenced by a legacy of performance concerns. (defrag, buffer caches, weak consistency)

Building interesting things that operate on VMs from the outside probably means throwing this all out.

Also we’d need to rewrite file systems and applications…. 